Mission of Wormwood Institute 2
The Four Pillars 2

Introduction

Dear Nightcrawlers, new and old:

On behalf of our staff members and our Principal (who unfortunately was too busy to write this letter), I would like to extend a formal welcome to the new school year in these hallowed halls of the Wormwood Institute. You're among elites and the academically excellent, and you've done well to make it to this point.

As you read this handbook, which you should be sure to do thoroughly and in full, please have an open mind about our policies and approach to academics. This is crucial if you are to get the most out of your time here at Wormwood. Keep the rules and regulation of our institution in the back of your mind, and we can all coexist on this secluded campus in harmony. If you have any questions, feel free to write me an inquiry.

It is the belief of the Principal that Wormwood Institute must be a bastion for true education. The curriculum we offer, therefore, is not what most schools would consider traditional. Nonetheless, we expect of each and every one of you a commitment to venturing into the unknown and seizing it.

We seek to challenge your beliefs, cultivate your wisdom, and enrich your experiences. We seek to both witness and assist in the growth of the world's next leaders, politicians, scientists, lawyers, doctors, artists, and many more. We seek to forge the sharpest swords out of basic ingots. And in time, you all will stand united with the Principal, with a singular grand vision.

Omnes pro uno. Control your future now.

- The Assistant Principal

The Four Pillars

Work. This goes without saying, but in order to succeed at Wormwood Institute, and in any position you may have in life, an astounding amount of work will be demanded of you. If you can demonstrate a dedication and effort to learning and upholding the learning environment, you will have a much more rewarding experience here.

Obedience. In a collaborative setting, it's crucial to be obedient. Getting along with your peers and striving for a tight-knit community is an expectation of any school, but this is especially true here at Wormwood. Doing as you're told will enhance your camaraderie with the other students, your instructors, and the Principal.

Reliability. You must be someone who can be entrusted with any task, no matter the difficulty. Aim to set high expectations, of yourself and of others, when it comes to taking on or assigning responsibilities, as the Principal would.

Mastery. We at Wormwood are proud to call ourselves one of the best schools in the nation, but that title can only come with the combined effort of all of you to be the very best.

If you are all of these things, we can consider you a proper W.O.R.M.!
